

Alan D. Hoops, PLA, AICP
Director of Environment & Design – City of Madison, Mississippi

Education and Certifications

- Bachelors Degree in Landscape Architecture - Mississippi State University – May 1985
- PLA - Professional Landscape Architect – January 1987
- AICP - Certified Planner – January 2009

Experience

- November, 2014 – present: City of Madison, MS – Director of Environment & Design
 - Directs a department which includes enforcement of architecture, landscape architecture, signage, gated public streets, site lighting and small scale environmental concerns.
 - Works with design professionals to satisfy requirements of the Mayor and Board of Aldermen regarding all exterior design issues.
 - Responsible for directing the design and planning of all non-infrastructure city projects.
- May, 2003 – November 2014: City of Madison, MS - Director of Community Development
 - Directs a department which includes Planning, Architectural review and GIS – Geographic Information System services.
 - Performs architectural and site design review for commercial and residential projects.
 - Zoning Administrator from 2003 – June, 2012
- May, 1997 – May, 2003: Johnson Bailey Henderson McNeel PA, Jackson, MS - Land Planning Group Director
 - Provided site planning and landscape architecture services for the Mississippi's largest architectural design firm.
- January, 1996 – May, 1997: Alan David Hoops, Landscape Architect, Madison, MS - Sole Proprietor
 - Provided site planning and landscape architecture services to architecture and other landscape architecture firms and commercial and residential clients.
- May, 1985 – January 1996: Hartley P. Fairchild & Associates, Jackson, MS - Project Coordinator/
Landscape Architect
 - Provided site planning and landscape architecture services for developers and commercial and residential clients

Member

- ASLA - American Society of Landscape Architects
- AICP - American Institute of Certified Planners
- APA - American Planning Association